Flames Consume $75,000 Dredger At the Jones Ranch

Takes Option on London Ranch for Art and Literary Colony

COSTLY FIRE OF UNDETERMINED ORIGIN LAST SATURDAY

Dredger "Sonoma" Mass of Flames Last Saturday Afternoon and Is a Complete Loss.

Last Saturady afternoon the big dredger "Sonoma" which has been anchored at the Jones ranch near McGills, preparatory to going into service near Oakland, was discovered in flames by caretaker Phillips who returned after two hours absence and found a fire raging aboard, the origin of which is undetermined. Despite heroic efforts to control the flames, and a hurried call for the Boyes Springs Fire Department, the dredger was soon seen to be doomed. The superstructure was rapidly consumed the boilers exploded and the falling of the heavy hoisting apparatus caused the dredger to list and sink.

Both chemical engines arrived to give aid but were unable to do anything but protect the hay barns nearby and the sister dredger "Nevada", pioneer in reclamation work at the Jones Ranch.

Captain Gus Hodes of the Sonoma was away at the time of the disaster and can give no probable cause of the fire. The caretaker declares everything was all right when he left for the noon day meal at the ranch house and that something must have gone wrong in his absence.

Superintendent Joe Keechler of the ranch feels the loss keenly, coming after the recent crop failure and although the dredger was insured, it will be entirely insufficient to compensate the Sonoma Land Co. for the loss. The dredger was a new model, fully equipped and was recently overhauled at a cost of $8,500.

Messrs Jones and Henry of the company were up at the ranch last Sunday inspecting the ruins and looking over the relamation project which this year bids fair to produce a bumper crop. The ranch has been under the able management of Joe Keechler for 30 years and has been one of the most productive hay and grain properties in California.

The dredger Sonoma was expected to clean up some levee gates on the ranch prior to going into service at Oakland within the next two weeks.

"CALEETA", STONE LADY A SUCCESS

E. G. Perkins who came home to vote, reports a very successful season with "Caleta" the petrified Indian woman which was a "find" of last year at Agua Caliente. While exhibiting the natural wonder at Idora Park, the Chutes at the beach and at the California Industries Show at the Auditorium, Mr. Perkins told thousands of people of Sonoma Valley and distributed considearble literature. He could have handled many more pieces of advertising literature had they been available.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wyman (nee La Torres) of San Francisco spent Sunday at the Chas. La Torres home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Malet and Mrs. P. Berg spent Sunday and Monday visiting friends in San Francisco.

Good Homes Wanted For These Boys

Who will give a home to John, aged 13 years, to Billy, aged 12 years, or to Philip, aged 13 years? "These boys are all good, healthy, normal boys and want to live in the country," so the Homeless Children Committee of the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West write from San Francisco. Perhaps here in Sonoma Valley are homes and hearts awaiting these lads, homes and hearts which will mean everything to a boy's future. What better work is there in the world than shaping just such lives, giving boys without a home the influence, education, kindness and direction which they need, most of all at their age. Little orphans may thrive in institutions but all sturdy lads need real homes and there should be a real appeal in the Native Sons' and Daughters' request to mother John, Billy or Philip. We feel letters will just pour in from Sonoma Valley to Mary E. Brusie, secretary of the committee, 955 Phelan Building, San Francisco.

NEW HOME OF LAUNDRY TO BE ERECTED

Messrs Lang and Basaglia, local contractors who will put up the concrete French Laundry building for P. Lembeye, have an attractive sign on the site of the building opposite St. Francis church indicating the exact location of the contemplated building

ANOTHER SHOW AT HIGH SCHOOL

Another good high school show is coming. The date is Friday, November 28th, the day after Thanksgiving.

The high school has received the praise of Sonoma movie fans for the beautiful and instructive films that it has booked.

The one-act play, "Enter the Hero," part of the last show, was probably the best acted play that the high school has staged in recent years. The play next Friday night is a Russian comedy, "A Marriage Proposal." There are two casts as in the previous play and the successful cast will not be selected until the day before the show. There will be five reels of pictures and a dance will follow.

GUESTS AT THE LONDON RANCH

Mrs. W. H. Chipman, Miss Caroline Chipman and Herbert Chipman of Hilo, Hawaii are visiting Mrs. Charmian London at Glen Ellen. The visitors are returning from Europe and are enroute home. The family are old and dear friends of the late Jack London and wife and are refered to affectionately in Mrs. London's book "My Hawaii".

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Murphy will attend a dinner dance at the St. Francis Hotel tonight in San Francisco where members f the California Press Association and the Association's president, Governor Richardson will conclude a two day's session and renew congenial acquaintanceship

Petition Is Circulated To Block Supervisors Intention To Improve Roads

Despite the widely signed petitions calling for the improvement of the Vineburg and Petaluma roads under a road district plan there will be definite and powerful opposition to the plan of the Supervisors to create the district and levy a tax on land in the area contemplated. Already petitions opposing the move have been signed by some of the largest land owners in the proposed district, among them A. W. Foster, C. A. Bodwell, Sonoma Land Company, Rose Land Company, Tubbs Island, Champlin, Cutter and others. These property owners claim that they will be taxed out of proportion to the benefit to be derived, and in some instances point out where the tax running over the proposed 20 year period would saddle a tax of as much as $40,000 on the land. The instance is in the case of holdings of a thousand or more acres where the land is used for range and would obviously bear a burden out of proportion to its value.

Opponents of the plan further charge that the proposed permanent improvement in the direction of Petaluma would not give the people the best route to the Egg City. They stress the fact that the Stage Gulch route is subject to slides in the winter time and that there is another canyon which the road should traverse which would give a 4 per cent natural grade, eliminate many curves and shorten the distance to Petaluma at least one mile. This route is in the direction of the Martinelli ranch.

The Supervisors have as yet not started their procedure in the matter and whether they will go on with the plan in the face of the present opposition is problematic. Many signers of the petitions praying for the formation of the district are said to have also signed the counter petition.

NEW BUILDING AT GLEN ELLEN

The fire swept block at Glen Ellen opposite the N. W. P. depot is rebuilding, bigger and better than ever. Mr. and Mrs. Meglin (nee Bonnevecchio) are erecting a two story concrete store and living quarters on their lot in the fire zone. Contractor Sullivan of Bennet Valley is doing the work. Mrs. Meglin is one of Glen Ellen's most successful and enterprising merchants and has been conducting her store in temporary quarters since being burned out.

NEW YEAR'S EVE DANCE OF N. S. G. W.

The Sonoma Parlor of Native Sons will give the New Year's Eve. dance at Union Hall and a committee headed by Bert Kerner is preparing to make it the social success of the season. Assisting Mr. Kerner are Tom Palmer, Garry Bartoli, Gus Marcy and a floor committee composed of Tony Barrachi, Philip Bill, John Steiner and Fred Stuermer.

ENJOYED DUCK HUNT IN COLUSA COUNTY

A party of Sonoma hunters including City Trustee Ed Lindley, Fred Hansen, U. J. Martinelli, R. L. Stanleigh and Bert Stroup spent Sunday to Tuesday on a duck hunt in the vicinity of Colusa on the Heppelstein ranch. While the birds were not flying good, the Sonoma sportsmen all got their quota of ducks or geese and report a splendid time.

CHANCE TO GET THE BEAVERS BALL TEAM

The Portland base ball club, the Beavers, in which Duffy Lewis recently purchased an interest, may come to Sonoma Valley to train, declares Lewis, if a field and accommodations can be furnished. He urges local boosters to take up the matter and try to land the team.

PLAN NEW YEAR MARATHON RACE

It is proposed to hold a big free-for-all Marathon race in Sonoma Valley New Year's Day. The event would attract athletes from all over the bay district.. Tom Corcoran of Agua Caliente Springs Hotel has headed a list which would raise $100 in cash for the winner, or if over-subscribed, a second and third prize would be offered. He has also offered the use of his showers, bath house etc. for contestants.

The Sonoma Valey Marathon would be similar to the famous Dipsea event which has a big following and attracts hundreds to Marin county every year.

There is no better mid-winter climate than Sonoma Valley and the cross country run would give this locality much publicity and afford many out-of-door enthusiasts a fine outing and chance to capture a cash prize..

A tentative route for the race is from Agua Caliente to El Verano, thence to Sonoma, Boyes, Fetters and finish at Caliente.

Anyone interested in helping to put over the marathon may send in a donation to Tom Corcoran or this office. Donations reported are: T. H. Corcoran, $5 and E. G. Perkins, $5.

NO GAS FOR THE VALLEY OF THE MOON

After thorough investigation, the Chamber of Commerce finds that it is not practicable to get gas in Sonoma Valley. There would not be a sufficient number of consumers to assure the company a proper return on the investment, declared the P. G. & E. representative, Mr. Ross, who came to Sonoma on Friday of last week to discuss the matter.

THANKSGIVING

The time honored festival will be duly observed in the annual Thanksgiving service at the First Methodist church at 10:30 a. m., Rev. Dr. Cookman preaching the sermon. Everybody is cordially invited.

Know By Observation, Not Hearsay

"Visit Your Schools" is one of the slogans for American Education week. There are many reasons why parents should visit the schools, according to superintendents who have written to the United States Bureau of Education. Among the reasons given are: Parents should visit the schools to get acquainted with the teacher and to understand thoroughly the conditions under which the schools are conducted. Parents should visit the schools because they are citizens and should know public institutions;they should visit the schools they support. The home and the school are jointly responsible for the training of boys and girls. The school cannot assume full responsibility even for the success of pupils in the formal subjects. By visiting the schools parents can ascertain their share of responsibility and can more carefully evaluate the schools' share of the contract and can better understand the natural limitations of the schools' influence.

ENTERTAINED AT PALACE HOTEL

Miss Beth Lane of the University of California was the hostess at a recent social affair given at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco. Among the guests entertained was Miss Irma Adler of San Rafael.

VETERAN MINT EMPLOYE IS VACATIONING HERE

Andrew Cuneo, for the past 32 years an employee of the U. S. Mint in San Francisco and well known in political circles of that city, has been visiting at the Springs where he owns property, and expects to settle when he retires. Mr. Cuneo's eye sight is not as keen as when the editor knew him 25 years ago so he plans to come to the Valley of the Moon and try rural life, probably ranching on a beautiful place near Glen Ellen. "I have made enough money in my day says Cuneo, and now I'm here to say that Sonoma Valley is my goal. You have a regular mint right here with climate, mineral water, such as you have and it's good enough for me'

JOSEPH VELLA CALLS ON GOVERNOR RICHARDSON

Joseph Vella, proprietor of the Sonoma Mission Creamery was in Sacramento Tuesday where he had business at the Governor's office. The Sonoma business man was cordially received by Governor Richardson and his secretary, Harry M. Lutgens.

Mr. Vella called to get data on supplying state institutions with his products and not to get a job on the new boxing commission.

Mrs. A. Froment and daughters are moving into their new home on Broadway this week.

Mrs. P. Bosch and her attractive daughters Kate and May came up from San Francisco Tuesday evening.

THE LATE AUTHOR'S PROPERTY TO CHANGE HANDS WITHIN YEAR

Glen Ellen May Become Mecca of Those Who Believe Valley of Moon All London Said Of It.

The famous 1400 acre beauty ranch of the late Jack London made famous through his book, "The Valley of the Moon," may became the center of California's art and literary colony, eclipsing Carmel in popularity and claiming the attention of all who would gather at the shrine of the author and tread the picturesque acreage which he loved and immortalized in his widely read novel.

Harry Gottsfeld, prominent lawyer of San Francisco, has taken an option on the London ranch and with him John Spargo, the architect. These gentlemen have a well formulated plan to magnificently improve the property. The erection of a big hotel, open air theatre, 18 hole golf course, swimming pool, library and club house are contemplated, all in the nature of a memorial to the late Jack London, with an immediate expenditure of $350,000 if the deal goes through.

It has been known for some time past that Mrs. Charmian London and Mrs. Eliza Shepard found the London ranch too vast an estate to keep up and were considering putting the whole or a part of it on the market. The option granted Mr. Gottsfeld presages a big era of development in the Valley of the Moon whose romantic and historic traditions is daily bringing it recognition from every quarter of the globe.

U. C. STATE DAIRY STUDENTS VISIT CREAMERY

Prof. A. C. Phillips of the Dairy Division, U. C. School of Agriculture at Davis brought a class of eleven dairy students to Sonoma Thursday to inspect the plant and modern methods of the Sonoma Mission Creamery Joseph Vella, proprietor, accorded the visitors every courtesy and they spent a very profitable half day at the Sonoma manufacturing plant.

RAILROAD LOST COW POISONING DECISION

An opinion of much interest has been handed down by Superior Judge R. L. Thompson, overruling the demurrer of the Petaluma and Santa Rosa Electric Railroad in an action brought by J. Cassani, Two Rock Dairyman, against the railroad for damages for the death of eight cows, which were poisoned by eating grass on the railroad right of way. Judge Thompson holds that a railroad must protect an unfenced right of way when saturated with poison.

The Native Daughters will give a shower Monday night for Mrs. Florence Green Campbell, a recent bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Curry (nee Florence Rubke) have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Mary Rubke near Schellville.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

On Wednesday evening, November 26th, the Y. M. I. will hold their annual ball t Union Hall, Sonoma. e society are working hard to make it a grand success and y tickets have been sold. Many dance lovers from outside cities are planning to attend. Swift's Salient Six orchestra has been engaged to furnish up to date dance music. Don't fail to attend.

The Sonoma Vista Improvement Club will hold its third anniversary entertainment and turkey whist game at the club house at Sonoma Vista tonight (Saturday), and members are making big preparations to welcome the large crowd that will attend. Lady members of the club have decorated the hall beautifully. Following the whist game refreshments will be served to guests of the club.

Mrs. Hal McNeil, who has resided at Sonoma Vista for some time, is contemplating leaving of San Diego, where she intends to spend several months with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William McAuley were S. P. passengers from Hornbrook Sunday morning.

Tuesday morning while N. Dowdall was driving the Kearney lumber yard team up to a car at the S. P. yards here, one of the horses began kicking and then the team whirled suddenly around, throwing Mr. Dowdall to the ground. The wheels of the wagon then passed over him, breaking his left leg between the knee and hip. He was immediately rushed to Dr. A. M. Thomson's office in Sonoma where he received treatment. The runaway team, after circling around the town several blocks, was brought to a halt by Joe Danieli who made a clever capture. Mr. Dowdall was later removed to his home at Western El Verano and is getting along nicely.

Henry Bates, Sonoma haberdasher, while going towards Nuns Canyon on Monday morning, had an accident with his dead wagon when the drive wheel broke, with the result that the car was up-ended. Mr. Bates, who was driving, was uninjured. Summoning a mechanic, Mr. Bates had the car repaired and continued on his journey.

Sonoma Valley leather pushers received a severe rebuke last week in the squared arena, when Jack Wills, Valley of the Moon giant negro, was knocked cold at San Francisco. Joe White, the tomato king, fought a slow draw, receiving a most beautiful cauliflower ear. Woodchopper Kent, the backhills woodsman, ran into a right swing and was out for several minutes, asking his second, Sal Carlo, as he came to life, which side of the jaw he had been struck on. Jimmie McCrae, a Parente prospect, lost in Oakland. It is said that two of the boxers are suffering from old age, while the other two need training before getting into fast company. All in all, it was a sad blow to our stars. Louis Firpo, the bawling calf of the pampas, was handed a severe lacing at New York City by the grand old has-been, Charley Weinhart. Firpo should be deported at once to his home town in South America, before he comes to California in quest of boxing matches.

Charles Spindler, formerly of El Verano, but now in the insurance game in San Francisco, was extending greetings to his many El Verano friends last Saturday.

Mrs. A. Glaive and Mrs Emile Pierron and family were spending Sunday here with their mother, Mrs. J. Dutil. They reside in San Francisco.

Tom Partridge of San Francisco spent the week end at his ranch west of town.

A carload of wheat was derailed near Glen Ellen last Saturday on the N. W. P. The wrecker from Sausalito was sent out to clear the wreck from the right of way, and officials of the company were on the ground watching the job.

Ernie Nevers, Santa Rosa football star and fllback of the Stanford varsity, was forced out of the Stanford-Nevada grid battle last Saturday by an injury to his ankle. It is not thought the injury will be serious and Nevers expects to appear in the big game today.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Kelley of San Francisco were entertained at the Kearney home over the week end.

A large crowd assembled at the C. Stornetti ranch near Schellville last Sunday, to participate in the annual turkey shoot. The crack of the rifles made things hum down on the od farm and a number of fine turkeys, up for prizes, were won by the sharpshooters. All present were delighted with the day's sport and will return tomorrow (Sunday) to try their luck again at landing a Thanksgiving bird. Another great crowd was at the Felder Brothers' and C. Sganzini shoot in which 100 fine birds were won by the sportsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Johnstone of San Francisco were first of the week visitors at the Minkel home.

Mrs. A. McMullen of Sonoma Vista is shopping and visiting in San Francisco.

Henry Danieli and Arthur West were well known El Veranoites wha attended the Hippodrome Theatre at Napa Sunday evening. The boys enjoyed the show and also the pretty actresses.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sheperd of Seneca, Mo., have arrived from that city to spend the winter with their daugh, ter, Mrs. L. A. Nolan, and family.

MRS EMILY HAYES OF BOYES SPRINGS DIES

Mrs. Emily Hayes of Boyes Springs passed away at Santa Rosa this week after a protracted illness. The little old lady, known and beloved by residents of the Springs section having for many years before the fire been an employee of the Boyes bath house and the theatre, was laid to rest in Mountain Cemetery Wednesday. She was a native of Boston, aged sixty years.

A widowed sister residing at Vacaville was here for the funeral and may later come to make her home at the Springs in the cozy cottage which was the late Mrs. Hayes' great pride and comfort.. Following the disasterous fire at the Springs last year in which the old lady lost everything, she was among the first to be provided for, many friends and the Red Cross rehabilitating her home and providing comforts for her declining years. She was most grateful to her friends and neighbors but was destined to observe but one Thanksgiving in her little cottage. Some months ago she was taken to the hospital at Santa Rosa suffering from an incurable maladay.

COUNTY ASKS RELIEF OF STATE HOME CHARGES

The supervisors adopted a resolution at a session last week requesting the Sonoma county representatives in the legislature to introduce a measure providing for the state taking care of the expense of maintaining those sent to the Sonoma state home, a state hospital for the feeble minded, instead of making their care an expense upon the counties from which they are sent. The resolution sets forth that it costs the various counties of the state $240 a year for each patient, while the criminal and insane are kept in state institutions without expense to the counties.

THE ROAD DISTRICT PROTEST

Looking at the road district matter from the standpoint of the large land owners, some of whom would be called upon to pay as much as a $20-000 premium to get the proposed paved highway to Petaluma, it is evident that the burden, and it would be a burden, is out of all proportion to the value of the road to the farmers who would be taxed the most, and would be unfair.

As much as we all would welcome the paved road between here and Petaluma, we would not wish to see our neighbors saddled with an unjust assessment and made to bear the brunt of an improvement admittedly of as great, or greater, benefit to Petaluma and the county and valley in general than to the district called upon to bear the expense. The Index-Tribune reiterates its stand for 100 per cent paved highways in Sonoma Valley, but we demur to any plan whereby the burden shall be carried by a few people. If all were agreeable to the new road and there was to be a direct benefit to inaccessible tracts which would be cut up into city lots and home sites as a result of the improvement, we might concur in the present road district plan.

As it is, we do not believe that cattle ranges and hay land on this side of the mountains should be taxed to bring business to Sonoma and its resorts or to open up a modern artery of travel to Petaluma which would not only benefit by Sonoma trade but also by traffic direct from the Sacramento Valley. Any and all highways are desirable and increased traffic is to be gone after, but not at the expense of a few property owners. The method of getting this new piece of highway is yet to be determined.

The following is the Petaluma Argus editor's viewpoint on highway matters in this vicinity with particular discussion of the Sonoma-Petaluma road problem. It will be seen that the Petaluman does not believe that the highway district tax would be a just one, but favors the permanent mile at a time plan:

"Last Tuesday the writer enjoyed a ride over the new Western avenue highway. We say 'enjoyed' advisedly for that was the first time we ever experienced any pleasure from a ride over this particular piece of county road. A good many years ago the writer, while postmaster, used every effort to secure the improvement of the road so that the health of the rural mail carrier who had to travel over it every day might be preserved. For years it was known as the 'rocky road to Dublin.' For years also, the county has been spending money for makeshift improvements on it. Now, thanks be, it promises to remain in first class shape for many years with a minimum expense for upkeep.

"Insofar as possible, the plan adopted on this road should be applied to all the main traveled highways. One of the first roads to be similarly treated should be the D street road. While it is true that this road was recently put into very good condition, it is only a matter of months until the same work will have to be done over again. If we have a normal rainfall this winter, it is pretty likely that much of the temporary work recently done will be destroyed. Even if we can only build a mile a year of concrete surface, using the money received from the state out of the gas tax and the automobile registration fees, it will not be long before we can have miles of paved highways.

"Talking about roads, the hardest problem for Petaluma and Sonoma to solve is the Sonoma road, from the paved highway via Stage Gulch. This piece of road is not logically a part of the State highway system. It does not come within the class of roads connecting county seats. Besides, there are thousands of such roads in the State, and if they were all to be included in the major highway system of the State said system would be of such proportions as to make it even more top heavy than it is already is. Th one best bet seems to be to build it on a mile a year basis an dthus get the work done—eventually. The land lying adjacent to the highway, most of the way, is not of sufficient value to sustain a highway district. The tax would be out of proportion to the probable rental or producing value of the land."

As to the Vineburg highway's completion, money already on hand by Supervisor Lowell will take care of that, although other Valley roads will rightfully claim some of the funds available for permanent improvement, the only kind of expenditure which is ever satisfactory to the taxpayer or traveling public.

SURPLUS PROVES GOVERNOR "MADE GOOD"

Almost coincidental with Governor Richardson's denial that he had decided not to become a candidate for re-election came the financial statement from State Controller Riley at Sacramento that California has between six and ten million dollars surplus in the treasury at the end of the first two years of the Richardson administration, due to increased revenue and to the Governor's careful business management.

On this proud record, the record itself aside from the figures being the first real ledger balance ever computed and available to the people of the State, Governor Richardson is virtually drafted to be California's Governor again.

Governor Richardson may not use the best taste in the world in selecting dedication occasions for the dissemination of data on his administrative record and policies; he may be born under a lucky political star, as the "Bee" suggests; he may not fall for sob sister pleas for appropriations regardless of the treasury's condition; he may even be so "hard-boiled" that he will appoint a virile boxing commission; he may, perhaps, be criticized on all these scores, but figures do not lie and neither did the Governor when he declared at the outset that he was going to put California on a sound financial basis. The so-called "financial break" in favor of the Governor is a break for the people, whereas formerly it was the politicians who profited and absorbed any surplus which might have accrued in the State treasury.

California spent $107,665,241.07 and during the two years of this expenditure the State's revenue figured $113,-858,420.35, leaving a present surplus of $6,067,973.31.

It will be seen that Governor Richardson was not niggardly in his provisions for the State's needs. The so-called tightwad policy of the Governor, so displeasing to the politicians, was just a matter of eliminating all waste, doing away with duplications in service and holding in abeyance certain expenditures until the State could afford it. The State spent plenty, our institutions were never in better shape and California has a surplus of six millions after all is said and done.

That our future real needs will be well taken care of and that the surplus will be wisely applied is certain f public confidence and faith in Governor Richardson continues and the people refuse to be stampeded by yellow journalists or envious politicians.

Y. L. I. CARD PARTY

The second Y. L. I. card party of the season was a great success and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by a record crowd. The ladies' prize, a hand painted cup and saucer, was won by Mrs. G. Niell and the gentlemen's prize, a leather wallet, was won by J. L. Babcock. Consolation prizes went to Mrs. T. Monahan and George Millerick. Much credit is due for the success of the party, to Mrs. T. Cereghino, as chairman of one of the committees.

CARLOAD OF FLOUR FOR THE HOLIDAYS

M. Weiler, the local baker is in receipt of a carload of the finest Eastern flour which will be used for Valley Maid Bread, pies and cakes for the regular and holiday trade of the Old City Bakery. Mr. Weiler says Sonoma trade evidently appreciates his local made bread and carload arrivals of flour are becoming frequent.

FEMININE RUM SLEUTH DISCOVERS 'HAIR TONIC' THEN ARRESTS BARBER

Daisy Simpson, booze sniffer, well known to scores of members of the more scalp on her belt.

Frank Civiavelli, barber, 800 North Point St. produced a pre-Volstead "hair tonic" when Daisy visited him for the ostensible purpose of having her locks trimmed. Frank languishes in the city prison and 55 gallons of "hair tonic" are held as evidence against him. —S. F. Daily News.

Do not forget Wednesday is the night of the Y. M. I. Thanksgiving eve dance, which is always a social event of the winter season here.

SONOMA'S GREATEST NEED

Hear this question discussed at the Congregational church tomorrow (Sunday) evening.

The laymen of the Congregational church will conduct a symposium on Sunday evening at the church, taking for their subject "What Is Sonoma's Greatest Need?" The speakers will consist of several laymen of the church who will discuss this topic and endeavor to suggest a remedy thru the instrumentality of the church. The discussion will be at 8 o'clock.

There will be special music, both vocal and instrumental. Mr. Grinstead will favor the audience with a solo and all are invited to come and hear this discussion.

High School News

By CHESTER HORN

"Never give up," is the motto of the mechanical drawing class. After a hard and laborious struggle they are turning in work which shows great improvement over that of the first part of the year, according to their instructor, Mr. Stenquist.

The Commercial English II class is studying official and social forms of letters. The members of the class have to write business, official and social letters correctly, besides invitations and announcements. The "kick" in the class is the writing of wedding announcements for different members of the class.

Mr. Campbell, our orchestra leader, said he would get new music when we learned to play, correctly, every piece of music we now have. The Seniors in the orchestra are wishing the Freshmen members good luck.

The Freshmen boys beat the Juniors at basket ball last Thursday afternoon, November 13th. The Freshmen were getting the worst of the deal at first, but pulled through by shooting foul shots. The score was 5 to 3 in favor of the Freshmen.

Last Wednesday, November 12th, the girls played the last interclass game of the year. It was between the Juniors and Frosh, the former winning by a score of 6 to 3.

The Junior girls' base ball team has successfully defeated all other classes in this outdoor sport, and are to be, therefore, the guests of honor at a party to be given by the Girls' Athletic Association at some future date.

Preparations are now under way for the Senior party, which is to be held on Friday evening, December 12th, the closing day of school of 1924. The skit and play in conjunction with the dancing, will be very interesting to all the students and their parents who attend.

At the regular school assembly on Thursday afternoon, November 13th, the high school observed Armistice Day with an appropriate program. As the school had a holiday on Tuesday, Thursday was the first opportune time for the commemoration. Two talks, one on "The Cost of War" and the other on "The Means of Prevention of War" were given by Kenneth Germeshausen and Walter Carter, respectively. The orchestra played the "Patriotic Overture" and the student body joined in singing one stanza of our national anthem. The Girls' Glee Club was represented with two selections and a one-act play, "Enter the Hero," was given by Jayne Eberhardt Cecil Hunter, Jennie Downie and Lucy Pfalsgraf. This play was under the supervision of Miss Bloom, dramatic instructor.

The above play was presented on Friday evening by a different cast of characters, students participating being Ruth Ritz, Kenneth Germeshauser, Charmian Byrne and Mathilda Bonneau. The orchestra played two selections and the Girls' Glee Club sang two songs. Motion pictures and dancing followed, and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present.

The Senior boys played the Freshman boys a game of basket ball on Tuesday noon, November 18th. The former won by a score of 16 to 5.

"Bring in your Fords, we fix 'em," says Mr. Benton, manager of the machine shop class. Five members of the "species" are being completely overhauled by members of the auto class. One Ford is getting its valves ground and the rear end overhauled.

Culverts are being played along the south drive of the school grounds which will add greatly to the good condition of the grounds during the winter months.

Posts have been placed in front of the school walks to keep machines from running up on them.

The farm mechanics class is constructing several book stands to be used in the various class rooms.

David Cohen's Ford was the first auto to be completely overhauled and turned out by the auto mechanics class. The owner reports that his Ford now runs better than when new. Anyone wishing expert advice regarding Fords should ask any member of the auto mechanics class.

Club, of which Mrs. J. Brendel, formerly of Schellville is a prominent member. The proceeds of the coming bazaar will be used to erect a flag pole for the city of Lompac.

A little daughter, Maureen Alberta was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Mantle, nee Mary Kolich, of Kansas City, Mo. The baby was born at the home of Mrs. Mantle's mother at Hayward.

Mrs. Mantle and baby left Tuesday for their home in Kansas City. Mrs. Mantle, a former San Francisco girl, has many friends here, having often visited here at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Dagnan, at the Quarries. Mr. Mantle holds a responsible position with the Long-Bell Lumber Company of Kansas City.

tion. His wife and family will also soon leave for the southern city.

Henry Koerner, proprietor of the Oak Grove Resort, left Tuesday for a several months' visit to his old home town in Germany. It is many years ago since our townsman left his birthplace and he has been looking forward with keen anticipation to his cruise over the rolling sea to the fatherland. His many friends in the Valley of the Moon wish him a pleasant voyage and a safe return to the United States.

Mrs. F. LaFranchi has been spending several days visiting her daughters in San Francisco.

Jake Steckmeyer, El Verano contractor, is building a five room cottage for M. Bianchini at Sonoma.

Dan McCarthy and Al Rossi, two prominent resort owners here, left for Los Angeles Sunday morning by auto. After seeing the sights in the southern city, they will return home, accompanied by Mrs. Rossi, who has been visiting her folks there.

Jack Poulson was in town last week looking after some loose stock. Poulson is right on the job and Sonoma Valley people are congratulating him on the way he is handling his important official position as pound master. He carries the honors of his office with class and dignity.

Edmond Debats has cast his lot in Berkeley, where it is said he has been appointed foreman of a large laundry in that city.

Miss O. Nonella was spending Sun day at the Nonella home here from San Francisco.

The Benke family of San Francisco, accompanied by Mr. Murante, were spending Sunday at their Sonoma Vista summer cottage.

Phil Rossi is a busy workman this week repairing the large wooden bridge near his residence on Railroad avenue. Other locals are assisting Phil on the big job and under his able direction, have made the bridge a first class structure, a credit to Mr. Rossi's memory in years to come.

A new concrete bridge has been built on Oak street, near the French Cottage, the workmen finishing the job early this week. Pete Basaglia of Sonoma was the contractor and the new thoroughfare has received the O. K. of county officials as a first class job.

Mrs. D. Gump of San Francisco has been entertained at the Swensson home here the past week.

William Sutter, guard at the San Quentin prison, was in town last Saturday visiting his mother and renewing acquaintaces with the local home guards. Sutter left for Colfax Monday where he has been appointed a guard at a convict road camp near that city.

Eli Boche, a student of the University of California, was spending Sunday with home folks.

Roadmaster Hart of South Vallejo was in town with a crew of men last week setting a derailed car back on the rails. The dirt on the new siding here settled, allowing the car to slip off the track. The local freight engine, as well as Jim Harrington's section crew, was pressed into service and it took some time to get the car back on the track.

G. Verbeck, Sonoma tailor, is the owner of a new 1925 Ford car. Mr. Verbeck handles the new machine with skill and dignity.

Mrs. D. Holman, after a several weeks' visit at the Weaver home, returned to Los Angeles last Saturday. Mrs. Holman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Weaver.

Charles Dwyer, S. P. engineer out of Suisun, passed through El Verano last Friday evening enroute to Santa Rosa. Charley, who recently jumped the bachelor ranks, received the congratulations of his many friends in El Verano.

John Basileu, local fisherman, landed a 12½ pound bass at Wingo Monday. This beats Supervisor Fred A. Lowell's recent catch of a 10½ pound bass and puts Basileu in second place for the prize to be given by Duhring's store, Sonoma, to the lucky one bring ing home the largest bass for the season. Come on, Fred, you are a sturdy old political warhorse, so don't give up the ship. Try your luck again before the time is up. There is one larger down in the bay, and you should be able to land it. This is your lucky year.

Carl G. Webber of Lakeville, who with John A. Olsen of Black Point, was in quest of ducks Monday, showed fight when Deputy Game Warden W. B. Sellmer, orded them into custody. Webber, according to report, was shooting ducks from a power boat at Black Point when the game warden appeared and ordered him to cease. A fist fight followed in which two blows were struck—the warden hit Webber and Webber hit the ground. After shackling Webber the warden took after Olsen and captured him after a three mile chase through the marshes.

PROMINENT SACRAMENTO PEOPLE VISIT HERE

Last week Sonoma and the General Vallejo museum had a visit from C. K. McClatchey and party from Sacramento. It was their first visit here and they were much interested and pleased with our historic city.

Mr. McClatchey is the well known publisher of the Sacramento Bee and prominent in anti-Japanese legillation matters. The Vallejo Museum and its gracious keeper, Mrs. Lulu V. Emparan also had a call recently from Mrs. Sherman Hoyt, prominent San Francisco woman who makes frequent trips and is much interested in our landmarks.

CRACK SHOTS WIN TURKEYS LAST SUNDAY

Felder Bros. and Sganzini were well pleased with the attendance at the turkey shoot and report some crack shots made by Buck Perry, Ed Peterson, Ken Weaver, Louis Picetti, Jack Lang and others who brought home the bacon.

Chas. Stornetti also had a large crowd and a very successful shoot which will be continued again tomorrow.
